Socorro Public Library can help!

If you're looking for a job, you should know that the New Mexico Department of Labor Workforce Solutions has changed its hours. It is still located at 109 Faulkner, but it is only open on Thursdays from 9 to 4, closed noon to 1 for lunch. The SOCORRO PUBLIC LIBRARY (401 Park Street) is open every day but Sunday and has ten computers for public use. You can access the Workforce Solutions website by clicking on the "Reference" button and choosing "Workforce Solutions Job Information" from the drop down menu. Then just click on the "find a job/career" button, and start perusing job listings. You can also use that site's resources to create and print resumes, check on scheduled job fairs, even to find training programs.

If you're looking for information about health insurance and the Affordable Care Act, you can click on the "Reference" button and choose "New Healthcare Information" from the drop down menu.

If you're looking for your family's history, Ancestry.com is a really useful tool. It requires a paid subscription, but you can use it for free at one of the public use computers at the library. Just click on the "Genealogy" button on the Library's web page. (Note: This opportunity is only available at computers inside the library).

If you're looking for a book to read or to listen to, you can download an assortment of popular audio and E-books ranging from classics like The Wizard of Oz to westerns and mysteries to non-fiction and children's books, too. Just click on the "Download Recorded Books" button or on the "Full-Color Ebook Downloads (axis360)" button.

If you're looking to learn a new language, Mango! That's the Library's free program that will help you learn to speak and understand a new language. There are more than 50 languages to choose from and you can work at your own pace. Just click the "Mango" button on the Library's web page.

At the Library there is always help available whether you need assistance with a download or printing or using the copier. If you have your own laptop computer, bring it with you! You can access the Internet through the library's free wifi.

If you're looking to do most all of this from your home computer, you can! Just go to ...
